

Budapest, 12-14 June 2013

Szakkör – Vígszínház – Institut Français de Budapest

Camus: The Plague

In the scenic version of Nobel prize winner Albert Camus' world famous novel a single actor plays all alone twenty different characters from the plague-stricken city of Oran. After having been performed over four hundred times in Paris, the very successful Hungarian version is played by leading actor Géza D. Hegedűs.

Actor: Géza D. Hegedűs

Composer and accompanist: Albert Márkos

Production collaborator: Péter Horgas

Director: András Dömötör

Theatrical adaptation of A. Camus' novel: Francis Huster

Translator: László Márton (Paris)

With support from Institut Français de Budapest and AKKU

For more information:

www.fugeprodukcio.hu

www.vigszinhaz.hu